FIRST LINES

'I am Jim Hawkins and my story begins many years ago, when my father worked at the Admiral Benbow inn. One day a tall man with a scar on his face arrived. He opened the door of the inn, singing the song I now know so well.'	'It was December and the snow was falling quietly outside. The four March sisters were sitting around the fire in the parlor. They were knitting socks for soldiers. There was a war and everyone had to help.'	'It was a warm day in July and Alice and her sister were sitting on the grass in a field. Alice's sister was reading but Alice was bored. There was nothing for her to do. She looked around and yawned. She was hot and she was beginning to feel sleepy.'
'I am Dr Watson and I am a friend of the famous detective Mr Sherlock Holmes. One morning, my wife and I were having breakfast, when a telegram came. It was from Sherlock Holmes.'	'My first home was a beautiful meadow with a pond of clear water. There were some large trees near the pond. On one side of the meadow was a field and on the other was the house of our master, Farmer Grey.'	'It was seven o'clock on a very warm evening in the Seeonee hills when Father Wolf woke up from his day's rest. He scratched himself, then he yawned and he stretched his paws one after the other to stop the sleepy feeling in their tips.'
